About This Game

CRIMSON METAL

Is an experimental game made with FPS Creator that's trying to bring back the atmosphere of old school, hardcore, dynamic, brutal, and challenging game experiences from early 90's.

Story

Four elite counter-terrorism squads storm secret cyborg and biological-warfare weapon production facilities. But none of the personnel, chief commander or the place for cyborg production are identified. All four squads find themselves in a death trap without any chance of getting out or contacting the outside world.

As Adam Crimson, sole survivor of the Omega squad, you will go through chain of psychological and physical trials, which together are above ordinary person's power.

Scores of traps, hundreds of cyborgs, thousands of fierce mutants will stand on your way to freedom.

buy this game!. Very much enjoyed this game. My 4 year old and I played it together. What a clever story. Thanks!. I know pretty well the very good work made by Inner Void, since their first game ICY. When I had an issue there was always one of the fastest reaction by staff ever seen. This for me define how they approach their consumers!

Actually I focused my attention on CHEF one year ago, and the idea is really awesome: for the people who loves Masterchef or Hell's Kitchen is the perfect game. You can decide the dishes for your menu selected from so many different cultures, a price for everything, and even a policy for advertising you restaurant; than you have to pay attention to your wallet, and try to reduce the costs. So I like it because is realistic, CHEF gives you a realistic idea of managing your own restaurant!

The food editor is the best idea for this game, never seen it... I never expected it to be so addictive even in its early state. However there are some issues, you have to understand how to skill without suggestions; but I know that it's an Early-Release, and knowing the hard work previously made with their first game, I'm sure the developers are going to turn it in something really great and fun!. I picked up Tomato Way because the trailer looked kind of interesting. But now after playing the game, I have to say that it wasn't worth it for me.

Tomato Was tries to be a Serious Sam like shooter with some "disturbing" elements.

Throughout the game you run through lots of gray corridors shooting down onions, cockroaches, pickles, mutant rats and other creatures while trying to save captured tomatoes. That wouldn't be all that bad, but the problem is the execution.

The game looks, sounds and plays just awful. The frame-rate is also less than pleasant.

Verdict: If you like the visuals and love weird and intentionally "crappy" games, then check this game out. Otherwise don't touch it.

Rating:

Gameplay: 2/5 - Clunky and feels unfair

Level Design: 2/5 - Almost like a hallway simulator

Soundtrack: 3/5 - Fitting, but nothing more

Story: 1/5 - Very badly executed

Graphics: 1/5 - Looks awful

Length: 1/5 - The story is only one hour long and it all feels way to short. Not an acceptable lenght at all

Replay Value: 2/5 - Arena mode for those who like their high scores

Enjoyment: 1/5 - Did not like it at all. Good looking walking simulator with some easy item based puzzles. I enjoyed it for the most part, only the backtracking sucked.. good but sucks. So far, this product is real lit. I'm gonna get feet trackers soon!. CS GO PLS

. It's a good bird game and even has a frog that says "hey."

This is one of the easier "Cells" games; it's mostly just basic multiplication and addition. Total the game probably took me 3 hours or so; ignore my playtime, I fell asleep with the game on one night and didn't remember to turn it off until the next afternoon. I will say that some of the later puzzles (42, 49 especially) really got me though so there's good stuff here, it's just near the end. I recommend it to people who like the other cells games and enjoy basic arithmetic.. Not the worst Serious Sam lilke people say, actually it is my favourite one (although The Second Encounter is better), totally worth it.. Nice! I used to enjoy playing battle ships on paper as a kid. Playing alone I felt transported in time to the second world war and the epic battles that ensued. Playing with a friend it felt like battle ships or chess, but of course this time with nice graphics and music. Overall the game is well polished. The GUI, music, animations and gameplay is uncomplicated and well thought through. Well worth the $10 I payed.. so depressing... you are warned.... i was checking this game out but i didnt really get the description but it only cost tree fiddy (it was on sale). only after downloading it i realized my computer was about 8 stories tall and a crustacean from the paleolithic era.. I have sampled a lot of VR games and this one is really fun. I look forward to seeing what the dev does in the future.. Only really worth the money to buy this game if you have 3+ other friends also spend the $10 on it. When you create a match it generates a room code which you can share with your friends to have them join. If the friends you have that have the game are playing something else or offline you're out of luck. My own fault for not checking the reviews first, just assumed it would be like Draw Something/Draw My Thing (which were both free to play and more convenient with auto-matching). I may not return it if I see that they think they'll add some kind online-multiplayer.. Brilliant game, good game play. I really like it. If they bring out another I think they should do smoother graphics and not block graphics.. Despite the other comments about this product, I purchased it anyways since I have a steam cd key attached to my ccp account. Even so, steam wasn't able to detect my login account, and ccp wasn't able to detect the purchase. I requested a refund, but it was denied because the support agent can't read policy correctly. In game purchases have a 48 hour return period if they are not consumed in that time. Since this game time has no account tied to it, it cannot be used. This product is also an in game purchase. Therefore, it should be refunded as per the refund policy.

Hopefully CCP is more willing to help than the Gaben drones.

. If you like the classic Death Rally, you're deffinetly gonna like this. The thing I like most about this game is the ladder system: you build your little car up from nothing, earn money -> buy better cars, upgrade them with engine\handling\more nitro etc and become the top of the league to progress to the next league.

The dev team has been more than helpful to me and the game is realy fun to play. It's a definite buy for me.
